Mothers Opposes Plans To Close Public School

Parents Voice Their Opinion That School Is Not A Firetrap as Comptroller Gerova Pays Official Visit to Woodburn Building on Tuesday Afternoon

Parents of children attending Public School 80 on 87th road & 92nd street when they visited the school Tuesday afternoon, in order to get a first hand look at along with the three other frame schools which remain in Queen's borough, said they were shocked at the conditions at the school, and were afraid that their children were in danger of catching some dangerous sickness.

"It would be unfair to the parents and the children to close schools," said Mrs. Frances Pigott of 8723 92nd street, one of the mothers who visited the school Tuesday. "The school is overcrowded, and the children are not getting proper care. The school is not a firetrap, but it is not safe for the children to attend."

Nab Four Boys For Stealing Woman's Car

Three 15-Year-Olds and One 16, Arrested By Local Detectives

Three Wavehaven boys, 15 years old, and John Schol, 14, 89-46 wavehaven street, were arrested Satur­day afternoon by Sergeant Thomas Mahoney and Robert Driscoll and charged with stealing a car owned by Mrs. Mildred Temple, 99-39 94th street.

The boys were arrested at about 3:30 o'clock at the 94th street address. They were charged with stealing a car from Mrs. Temple, who lives on the 94th street address. They are accused of taking a car that belonged to Mrs. Temple, who lives on the 94th street address, and then driving it away.

Prudential Savings Marks 50th Anniversary

President Fred Groes WCS Co-Operates With Unit of National Savings Bank

More than 140,000 persons were guests at the Prudential Savings Bank of Brooklyn's 50th Anniversary celebration held at the Hotel St. George, Brooklyn, where the bank was founded.

The bank has been in operation for 50 years, serving customers with personal and business accounts, and has grown into one of the largest banks in the country.

Crozet Crossing Hit

Kurt Doman, 45, of 36-16 39th street, was killed Friday by a car while crossing the street.

In addition, the bank has been in operation for 50 years, serving customers with personal and business accounts, and has grown into one of the largest banks in the country.

Haplnner Would Aid Home Owners by Increasing Limit of F. H. A. Loans

Help for small home owners and low-income families was provided by a program this week by barren state Rep. Helena Hapliner who and was chosen as the state's representative on the F.H.A. board.

The program would make the monthly payments on a home more manageable for many families, and would provide additional opportunities for small home owners and low-income families to purchase homes.

Woodhavensites Fear Loss of Homes By El Improvement

Residents Claim for Facts About City's Plan To Build El Structure Through Heart of Community; Official Statement Released by Transit Authority

Not in a hundred years have the residents of Woodhaven been so aroused concerning a proposal by city officials as they are today over the plan to construct a new subway service across the community.

The T.A. issue that the plan is not tentative, it is pending before the City Planning Commission and a decision will be made shortly after a public hearing is held. During the past week the Leader-Observer has received numerous messages inquiring as to the final status of the plan from parents of children in Woodhaven and the area.

"We are extremely concerned about the possibilities of the plan," said Mrs. Catherine Crocker of 89-39 92nd street. "Our community is already overcrowded, and we do not want any more development."

"We have been told that the plan is not tentative, but we do not believe it," said Mr. Robert Martin of 89-39 92nd street. "We want to know what is going on, and we want to have our say."