Foreign War Veterans Auxiliary Ready for New Year of Aid Work

Newly elected officers of the Auxiliary to the Monroe County Council of Veterans of Foreign Wars will take their stations for the first time Tuesday, when they meet in the Main Street Armory.

Council members are much pleased with the progress of the Auxiliary during the past year, especially commending the hospital work accomplished. The Veterans of Foreign Wars base their work on individual needs and private relief, always holding to the ideal, "let not your right hand know what your left hand doeth."

During the recent visit of Mother Maream, the hospital mother for New York State, the official report gave Rochester the highest commendation to the record of the state.

Drill team of the Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars seated the new officers the past week.

Florence Augustine is again drill mistress. The other officers are: President, Maude Miller; vicepresident, Celia Finzer; treasurer, Alice Reidus; secretary, Harriet Emmweiler; trustees, Grace McCartny, Ruth Aikens and Bessie Davis.

The team of 24 women again has obtained the use of the Main Street Armory and will drill once a week for the next year.

Mrs. Frances VanOcker of Flint Street has returned from Washington, where she represented the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Monroe County at the National Defense Conference.

For the past year the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been stressing the necessity of adequate and immediate defense measures. The Washington conference was for the purpose of planning legislation to accomplish that end.
