

Utica Herald-Dispatch

AND DAILY GAZETTE.

DISPATCH ESTABLISHED 1890

The HERALD-DISPATCH has a larger circulation than any other daily published in this city. It is the best advertising medium, not only in Utica, but in central New York.

GAZETTE ESTABLISHED 1793.
HERALD ESTABLISHED 1847.

VOL. LXII, NO. 19.

UTICA, N. Y., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 9, 1920.

ONE CENT.

VESSEL BURNED; MANY OF CREW ARE MISSING

Anchor Line Freight Steamship Destroyed by Flames in Lake Erie Last Night—Two of Crew Dead, Six Rescued and Captain and Twelve Others Adrift in the Lake.

SMALL HOPE FOR THEM

Fire Broke Out as Vessel Was Steaming Near Canadian Shore and Was Doomed From First—Mate Perished as He Tried to Check Flames and Another of Crew Drowned.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 9.—The Anchor line freighter Clarion burned to the water's edge off Southeast Shoal Point, Ontario, last night. The first mate and one of the crew perished. Six members of the crew are in Cleveland. The captain and 13 others left the ship in a steel life boat and have not since been heard from.

The six men brought to Cleveland were taken off the burning boat by the steamer Hanna. They attempted to leave the Clarion with one other man in a yawl. The yawl was swamped and six of them swam back to the Clarion. The seventh man, an hour afterward the Hanna came to the rescue. Anchor line officials fear that Captain Bell and the 13 men, who left the Clarion with him in the steel life boat, are lost.

Mate Perished in Flames. The mate whose name has not been learned was suffocated shortly after the fire broke out. He went into the hold to investigate. Captain Bell, following fifteen minutes later, found him dead. The six survivors brought to Cleveland were suffering severely from exposure. John Warren of the Cleveland Lake Erie & Western Transit Co., which owns the Clarion, took charge of the men. The physicians, who took charge of them, said that while they were exhausted they would recover.

The Clarion was a wooden steamer 236 feet long, 38 feet beam, and was built in 1881. She was carrying package freight and coal. The fire broke out shortly after the Clarion passed Amherstburg, Ont., and in a few minutes the vessel was doomed. At the time the fire broke out a high gale was raging, the sea was running high, icy waves swept the decks, while a blinding snowstorm was falling. This snowstorm prevented the vessel's signal of distress being seen by the life saving station crew at Point Pelee. The burning vessel was first sighted by the steamer H. F. Hope, the first vessel on the Great Lakes to be equipped with wireless apparatus, flashed warnings of the disaster to Cleveland, where the message was received by the United Wireless.

Rescuers Embarked in Search. Telegrams were immediately sent to Detroit, Amherstburg and other ports near Southeast Shoals asking that aid be sent. The tug James B. Hackett, owned by the Hackett Freight Company of Amherstburg, set out in command of Captain Hackett last night. The vessel made thirty miles along the shore without finding the burning boat. Then it put back with its crew overboard from exhaustion.

The Detroit life savers are this morning searching for the captain of the Clarion and the twelve men of the crew who left the burning steamer in the lifeboat.

SHIPWRECK NEAR BUFFALO.

Steamer Richardson Goes on the Rock—Five of Crew Drowned. Buffalo, Dec. 9.—The steamer W. C. Richardson went on the rocks about three miles out of Buffalo this morning. Five men are reported drowned. Rescuers brought 14 men into the local harbor. The 14 men were taken

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 3.)

LONDON IS WATCHING TRIAL OF MRS. LIEGH

Suffragette's Action For Damages Against Home Secretary Gladstone and Birmingham Jail Authorities May Determine the Future of Suffragette Cause—Victory For Woman Might Cause a Campaign of Terrorism.

London, Dec. 9.—In a court room crowded with suffragettes and politicians the suit of Mrs. Marie Liegh against Home Secretary Gladstone and the authorities of the Birmingham Jail for damages, resulting from the forcible feeding of the plaintiff, while a suffragette prisoner, was opened in the King's Bench Court today.

The case is attracting unusual attention as it affects not only the future of the suffragette cause, but in the event of a victory for Mrs. Liegh, the politicians may find it will mean a campaign of terrorism by the women in the coming general election.

Mrs. Liegh's counsel warned the jury that the suit was of the utmost political importance and involved much more than the mere question of the suit. If Mrs. Liegh loses her suit it will probably mean an end of the "hunger strikes" which have perplexed the jail authorities for the last six months.

FIREMEN WILL MAKE DEMAND

Brotherhood Sending Out a Circular Which Presages a Strike Unless Railroads Agree to Proposition to be Submitted.

Boston, Dec. 9.—As part of a plan to secure a uniform wage for locomotive firemen on all roads east of the Ohio River and north of the Potomac, Boston & Maine firemen here to-day are in receipt of a brotherhood circular sent out from Buffalo asking them if they will stand together in demanding a raise in pay from $3.40 a day to $3.90, shorter days, involving less risk of accident and a more liberal compensation for overtime.

If a majority of this slip prevail, no Boston & Maine fireman will longer have to flag his engine, carry the engineer's tool box from the roundhouse to the cab or handle the other engine and start to every engine before it starts out on the road. Moreover, he will not have to trim the engineer's lamps, clean brass head lamps, clean the steam chest or be paid for firing a 14-ton engine and for lighter engines. The firemen will probably vote on the proposition about January 1. The firemen's union in Cleveland were suffering severely from exposure. John Warren of the Cleveland Lake Erie & Western Transit Co., which owns the Clarion, took charge of the men. The physicians, who took charge of them, said that while they were exhausted they would recover.

ACTOR JOHN DREW, THROWN BY HORSE, SEVERELY INJURED

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Chicago and Twin Cities schedules. Some roads running west from Buffalo are under the Chicago schedule, and some under the Twin Cities schedule. The Chicago schedule is in effect in Chicago and the Twin Cities schedule is in effect in the Buffalo, Chicago and Twin Cities schedules.

Chicago and Twin Cities schedules. Some roads running west from Buffalo are under the Chicago schedule, and some under the Twin Cities schedule. The Chicago schedule is in effect in Chicago and the Twin Cities schedule is in effect in the Buffalo, Chicago and Twin Cities schedules.

Chicago and Twin Cities schedules. Some roads running west from Buffalo are under the Chicago schedule, and some under the Twin Cities schedule. The Chicago schedule is in effect in Chicago and the Twin Cities schedule is in effect in the Buffalo, Chicago and Twin Cities schedules.

HURLED A BOMB

Black Hatters Perpetrate Another Outrage in New York.

New York, Dec. 9.—The police have so far been unable to unearth a clue to the perpetrators of the bomb throwing which wrecked the door and windows of the mercantile factory of S. di Vita & Sons, a three-story brick building at 1,116 East Falls street, shortly before midnight. Scores of houses in the immediate neighborhood showed similar damage.

M. R. di Vita, the head of the firm, declares that the bomb was thrown by the "Black Hand" because he had ignored persistent demands for $7,500. No one was hurt in the explosion, although a woman member of the di Vita family was stunned by the shock that rocked the building.

COMPOSER IS TO MARRY GIRL FOR WHOM HE WROTE HYMN; PRETTY ROMANCE AT REVIVAL

New York, Dec. 9.—Robert Harkness, composer of sacred songs and a pianist, who has toured three continents with the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander, is announcing to friends in this country his engagement to Miss A. Ruth Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Langford of Adelaide, Australia.

Dr. Chapman and his party were

POPE WANTS U. S. TO ESTABLISH LEGATION

Pontiff Desires of Closer Diplomatic Relations Between Washington and Vatican.

Rome, Dec. 9.—From a source of unquestioned reliability to-day the United States learned that Pope Pius XI is extremely anxious for the United States to establish a legation at the Vatican and has commissioned Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli to negotiate with United States Ambassador John G. A. Leishman to this end. The Pope, it is said, has requested Monsignor Falconio, the Apostolic delegate to the United States, to have Cardinal Gibbons enjoin Archbishop Parley of New York, Ireland of St. Paul, O'Connell of Boston and Glennon of St. Louis in support of the plan. In the event that the plan succeeds it is believed that the chances of all these archbishops being raised to the cardinalate will be greatly enhanced.

Cardinal Vannutelli asked Ambassador Leishman to inform his Government of the Pope's desire. The Ambassador promised to do so, but refused personally either to support or oppose the measure.

Mr. Leishman was seen at the Embassy to-day but refused to comment on the report which comes to the United States from close personal friends of Cardinal Vannutelli. It has long been known that the Pope desired a closer diplomatic relation between the Vatican and the United States, but the proposal to establish a United States legation at the Vatican has caused great surprise.

SHOT MOTHER AND SELF

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

ACTOR JOHN DREW, THROWN BY HORSE, SEVERELY INJURED

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Canadian Boy Felled in Murder Attempt, But Ended Own Life. Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—James MacMath, aged 15, the adopted son of James MacMath, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

ARCHDUKE AND AMERICAN WIFE UP FOR TRIAL

Karl Heinrich, Who Married Miss Sylvia Thompson of New York, Thereby Creating Her a "Countess," Faced Paris Court With Woman To-day to Answer Charge of Swindling.

CUT A WIDE SWATH

Rented a Mansion, Bought Automobiles, Hired Large Number of Servants and Then, it is Alleged, Started in to "Clean Up" on the Jewelers of the French Capital.

Paris, Dec. 9.—The trial of Archduke Karl Heinrich and his wife, the "Countess Gubbato," who was formerly Miss Sylvia Thompson of New York, on a charge of swindling Paris jewelers, was begun to-day in the correctional court. The "Archduke" was at one time a coked in New York. The court room was crowded and many prominent persons were present as the alleged operations of the couple were so bold that the entire city became interested in the case.

The Countess Gubbato recently leased a house in Avenue Kléber, formerly occupied by a Russian nobleman. Almost opposite the American embassy it was in the heart of the aristocratic section of Paris and commanded a rental of $2,888 a month. The couple bought two automobiles immediately after moving into their new quarters and rode about with their chauffeurs. Twelve servants, including a high kitchen, chef and valet, were installed in the house.

In the gallery were placed the "family" portraits, the men mostly in the various uniforms of the court of Austria, and the women in the latest fashions. The venerable Emperor Franz Josef, done in oil, had the place of honor at the end of the chamber. Immediately behind the court sat the Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

Countess Gubbato, who had been living in Buffalo for several weeks, returned, and last night shot his foster-mother twice, wounding her seriously, and taking a car downtown, killed himself in a public lavatory. After being home a few days he was stopped at the border and prevented from going back to Buffalo. Reports differ as to whether he was simply an ungrateful, bad boy or a maniac.

LEADERS OF TEMPERANCE CONCLAVE TO BE HELD AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, Dec. 9.—The first joint conference of national temperance organizations will convene here December 13 to 17. An effort will be made at the very start to inaugurate a United States arm of total abstinence association, such as flourishes in the British army. The President, the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy have been invited to participate in the inauguration of this movement, which is to be confined to the personal question of abstinence, with no reference to prohibition or the Congress. Another probable outcome of the conference is the revival of the Congressional Temperance Society. Scores of the most famous temperance advocates in the United States will attend.

TWO MORE TEAMS DROP OUT OF THE SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE

Rutt and Stol Forced to Quit Because Latter's Legs Want Bad on Him—Keegan and Galvin Also Compelled to Give Up When Doctor Pronounced Keegan Unfit to Continue in Grueling Contest.

New York, Dec. 9.—Rutt and Stol, second choice in the betting to win the big six-day race at the garden and at whose chances to win a good bunch of money had been placed at odds of 7 to 10 to win and 5 to 1 that they would be no worse than second at the time Saturday night, were declared out of the race to-day following the announcement of Stol that his legs had gone back on him and he could not continue any longer.

Stol had not been on the track since 11 o'clock last night and at 3 o'clock to-day Rutt asked for a relief stating that he could not stand the continual springing much longer. Declared out of the race to-day following the announcement of Stol that his legs had gone back on him and he could not continue any longer.

Keegan Also Forced to Quit. The first team to be declared out of the six-day bicycle race through physical collapse because of the strain under which the men have been riding went out shortly after 7 o'clock to-day. Patrick Keegan of Lowell, Mass., who was teamed with Frank Clark of this city, was declared out of the race to-day following the announcement of Keegan that his legs had gone back on him and he could not continue any longer.

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

Keegan has been in bad physical

DR. COOK IS A TARGET FOR NEW CHARGES

Capt. A. W. Loose and George H. Dunkle, an Insurance Agent, Claim They Furnished Explorer With Fraudulent Observations For Which They Allege Cook Was to Pay $4,000.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

TELL AN AMAZING YARN

Dunkle Says Explorer Needed Help in Preparing Data For Danish Scientists and That They Furnished Bogus Observations—Cook's Supporters Not Alarmed by Latest Charge.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the press, and in the Cook-Paary controversy, but he positively declined to state if the newspaper paid him $3,400.

New York, Dec. 9.—Reiterating his declarations that he and Capt. August Wendell Loose, "perfected" a series of astronomical observations for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, indicating the map of the heavens as they would be found by an ambitious explorer as he approached 90 degrees north, George H. Dunkle, an insurance broker, to-day insisted that he has turned on Cook because the latter failed to pay him and his friends a balance of $3,400 due for the records turned over to Cook prior to the departure of the expedition. Secretary Walter Lonsdale, for Copenhagen. Because he did not get this money, Dunkle declares he told the story of his alleged negotiations with Cook to the