The Junior American Citizens Committee of New York is a social organization that brings together young people from all parts of the United States to promote unity and understanding. Mrs. Robert H. Clark serves as the president of the organization, and the committee has been involved in several notable events, including a reception held in the social hall of the church.

Mrs. Morgan attended the reception with the couple, and the event was filled with excitement and camaraderie among the young people present. The Junior American Citizens Committee continues to serve as a valuable platform for the exchange of ideas and the building of lasting friendships.

In answer to Mrs. Morgan's question about the young people's activities, the committee members shared with her the various initiatives they are working on, such as fundraising events, community service projects, and educational programs. Mrs. Morgan was impressed by the dedication and enthusiasm of the young people involved and encouraged them to continue their efforts to make a positive impact in their communities.

Mrs. Morgan also expressed her interest in learning more about the Junior American Citizens Committee and how she could get involved. The committee members welcomed her and provided her with information on how to join and get involved in their activities.

Mrs. Morgan left the reception with a renewed appreciation for the role of the Junior American Citizens Committee in fostering unity and understanding among young people from all parts of the United States. She expressed her hope to continue supporting their efforts and to see the positive impact they are making in the lives of the young people they serve.

Mrs. Morgan was also interested in learning more about the Junior American Citizens Committee's activities and how she could get involved. The committee members welcomed her and provided her with information on how to join and get involved in their activities. Mrs. Morgan left the reception with a renewed appreciation for the role of the Junior American Citizens Committee in fostering unity and understanding among young people from all parts of the United States. She expressed her hope to continue supporting their efforts and to see the positive impact they are making in the lives of the young people they serve.